VINEYARD
The Vallagarina and Adige valleys in Trentino, in the heart of the Dolomites, and in some of the best winegrowing areas in the Veneto.

VINIFICATION
In line with tradition in North-East Italy, this wine is produced in the pale straw and not the copper-coloured version. Grape harvesting time is established by testing the grapes to measure their degree of ripeness. The grapes are harvested when the intensity of their aromas reaches its peak. They are very gently pressed and the must fermented in heat-controlled tanks at a temperature of around 20°C. Before bottling, the wine is finished in stainless steel tanks and not in wood, at relatively cool temperatures, to preserve its typically fruity qualities.

REFINEMENT
Stainless Steel

DESCRIPTION
Pale straw colour with slight golden reflections. Very pleasant, distinctly fruity nose with slight floral notes which enhance its freshness and make it distinctive. Fresh, dry palate, full of character and elegance.
